

(Science, Mathematics and Research Training)

This program is open to high school students who are interested in science and exploration. No previous experience required. Field trips will depart from the University of Chicago campus and transportation will be provided. Program has no cost, but students will need to provide their own transportation to the University of Chicago.

UChicago Labs

- Witness the magic of superconductivity and learn about the Meissner effect!
- Explore engineering projects such as 3D printing, Optical and Electron Microscopy, and Computational Surgery.
- Join frontier quantum science and engineering research.

Argonne National Lab

- Visit the first U.S. national laboratory to explore large scale national research facilities
- Uncover the secrets of the particle accelerator and advanced photon source.

Astro Day

- Visit Adler Planetarium to learn about astronomy and astrophysics!
- Observe the night sky from Dearborn Observatory at Northwestern University if weather permits!
